

Foundations of Supervision

Attendees will earn 14.0 Category I Contact Hours, including 2.0 Category I Contact Hours of Ethics.

Course Description:

This comprehensive seminar delves into the most critical issues faced by clinical supervisors in social work. It offers a valuable overview of supervision, catering to both new supervisors and those seeking to refresh their skills. Through a combination of presentations, large group discussions, and small group interactions, the seminar explores the following aspects of supervision:

- The purpose, role, and function of supervision.
- Theories and models of supervision.
- Oversight and guidance of supervisees involved in diagnosing, creating treatment plans, and treating clients.
- Facilitation of individual and group supervision.
- The concept of parallel process and the importance of modeling strengths-based principles in supervision.
- Ethical issues that commonly arise in supervision.

Learning Objectives:

- Gain a comprehensive understanding of the function of supervision and the pivotal role of the supervisor.
- Explore various theories and approaches that prove effective when supervising individuals or groups of supervisees.
- Identify and comprehend potential ethical issues related to supervision.